This is a very cool 3D website place-holder or mini-site for those that don't have do display much information. It's basically a two sided business card in which you can change the containing elements. You can change the background images for both sides. You can enable/disable and resize/reposition html/css formatted text independently for each side. You can enable/disable and reposition a digital count-down timer independently for each side as well as change all of it's colors, target date, etc. You can change (or even disable) the 3D tilting properties, allow or disallow the flipping of the card (make it one-sided). It's a really cool coming soon widget for your site that is sure to impress your customers and it's very easy to use and implement. General XML Settings you can change: - card dimensions (width and height) - allow card flip on/off (one or two sided) - 3D tilting on/off ...and many more
