One of the keys to running a good website, is allowing your visitors to contact you when they have a question or comment on your website. Yet, in this day of email harvesting and spam, how do you allow your website visitors to contact you, without exposing yourself to a deluge of unwanted vi*gra ads? The answer? Use a form mailer! Click the link to read more about form processing scripts and how you can easily use them on your site. We also have an excellent form mailer that you could use on YOUR site.
