The Advanced Statistical counter collects info from your users, like country of origin, google/yahoo/altavista/msn search engine summaries, with search term breakdowns, Day by day page hits on your site, page popularity with the pages that make up your site and all the normal counter info as well, (screen resolution, browser stats, OS stats etc). Graphs are used throughout to display the info. Script is taint mode with strictures for security and is mod_perl capable. Can be used to display the page counts in your site, but generally it's an invisible counter for your benefit, not your users.
