Adventia Chat Server is an ASP chat that allows you to easily add HTML-only chat rooms to your site, transforming your web site or intranet into a dynamic and successful online community comprised of customers, users, suppliers or employees. Adventia Chat Server is also versatile and uniquely suited to be used in distance learning sessions, moderated events, virtual meetings or just social real-time conversations. It is simple to customize and can be easily integrated with the existing web or intranet site. Its user-friendly capabilities allow users to interact using any type and any version of browser. No plug-ins, Java applets or any other script downloads are required. Some of its key features are: Automatic refresh of conversation frame, Private conversations between users, Unlimited number of users, Configurable timeout of inactive users, and Control panel for administrator.
