AppletFile is a set of Java applets that can be used to enhance file upload and download capabilities on your Web site. Using standard Web browsers, users can upload and download multiple files using predefined paths to automate the process as much as possible. AppletFile is firewall-friendly because it is based on HTTP protocols such as RFC 1867. Version 5.0 is Java 1.5 compatible, runs in stealth mode, allows uploading and downloading without prompting user, deletes files from client machine after uploading to server.
