It looks like every other banner rotating script but with AZBANNER you can include Affiliate-Codes of major affiliate programs like amazon, tradedoubler, comission junction and many others. The affiliate program banners will randomly rotate with "normal" banner graphics. A small statistic program showing the number of impressions, clicks, and the clickthrough rate is an additional feature of the software. As part of the newly available second version it is now possible to manage several advertising spaces of a website. The new possibility to include the banner not only via php but also via iFrame is beneficial for webmasters of "PHP-free" web sites. Also new is the easy way of translating the software into the language of each user by the use of a so-called "language-file". Language files for English, German, Arabic and Chinese are already included.
