This is a Cross Browser Javascript Button Ticker that ticks a number of messages on a button. You can change the direction in which the message ticks. (i.e the order in which the message ticks). This ticker is very easy to customise. You can add any number of messages and their corresponding URLs. Messages must be added to the array `ticker_msg` and the URLs must be added to the array `ticker_url`. This ticker ticks the messages on a button. You can change the style of the button easily. The ticker speed can be changed easily by changing the value of the variable `ticker_speed`.
