Are you a PayPal merchant? Or any merchant other than ClickBank? Or even if you use a custom script? CB Download Manager is still perfect for you! You simply paste CB Download Managers automatically generated code into your thankyou page, and we will build a customer database for you, and also implement an expiring download link. This means when someone purchases your product, they enter their name and email address and we'll build a unique download link for them that will expire in a certain amount of time (that you specify). We even automatically email the download link to the customer.
