The CJ Random Quote script does exactly what it says in the title! The script can be configured to show the quotes from a text file in sequential order too. All you have to do to install it is upload a few files and create an insert on your page, the script will run in ssi pages aswell as php. This script is great if your struggling for ideas of page content or you just want to keep your visitors amused. The script will also allow html to be displayed so you can use it to rotate links if you want!
