CodeBrainVoice is a multi-use sound applet that can be used as a stand-alone player, or in a 'blind' mode as a page utility. You can include Voice anywhere on your page, with no other set-up than specifying a sound file, and it will play that sound file each time the page opens. A Repeat (looping) mode is also available. You can also use it as a sound file player, and you can have two or more instances of the applet playing at the same time to blend sounds.
