QuoteCatcher allows you to maintain a database of quotes via a simple browser based interface. The scalable text-based database can maintain just a few, or over nine million quotes (if your server is up to it). It keeps the content fresh for your guests by using JavaScript to randomly select a quote from a "short-list" each time a visitor loads (or reloads) the page. This works as well on pages composed of static HTML as it does on dynamic pages.
