The extension displays products that were purchased by other customers together with the product being viewed. This way customers themselves naturally define the best up-sell and cross-sell options or related products (depending on which one you choose). This solution is widely used on other eCommerce platforms and has been proven to increase sales significantly. List of features: Displays Purchased Together products in Up-sell, Cross-sell or Related Products block; Allows to display only in-stock products; Displays the most popular products first; Allows to configure the number of products displayed; Displays only the salable products that are not in the cart yet; Starts working immediately after the installation; Enables Admin to add products to the blocks manually; Admin is able to specify the placement of assigned products within blocks; Comes with a User Manual; 100% Open Source.
