DMR is a portal page creation system. DMR acts as a jack of all trades form, which allows for URL redirection as well as an interface to various search engines through its aliasing system. A DMR user can create aliases to any web/ftp site, complete with functional arguments. DMR keeps a history of all the URL's passing through it, so you'll never lose your place due to an unstable browser. The user interface is created within DMR, using regular HTML which can be as simple or as advanced as you like. The author recommends that it be served from a machine on your LAN for fastest access to the Web.
