Dodo's quiz script allows you to make as many quizzes as you want without going thru the code each time. All you have to do is to fill out your question, some optional variables and your results for it to work. You may call the individual quizzes by using the quiz.php?n="number of your quiz". It's superior to a javascript quiz because no one can peak at your code and cheat on the quiz! It is very simple. Please give it a try! You may also use this script to create math quizzes. Read more about that in the Math Quiz section.
