Have you got more than one website where users can join? Have you got problems by sending out newsletters to all your members on all sites? If yes, Email-Catch 1.0 is made for you! This script lets you add subscribers from different sites to only one single database. You can use this database to send out newsletter to all your subscribers at once, no matter which of your sites they have joined. After they have joined your sites, they will be added to Email-Catch 1.0 as well. But it can do even more for you: it adds your subscribers to two lists at once. The first list is made for your subscribers. The second list allows you to keep your subscribers email-adresses even if they unsubscribe from your site. It's up to your imagination what you can use the second list for, but be warned: Spamming is illegal and against the "netiquette". If you use this program to spam your members, your site will become a very bad reputation and it could cause you to loose your ISP. The scripts features: allows you to add all members from all your sites to one database, keeps all the email addresses confident in a second list, you can set if you want to allow your members to unsubscribe completely from both lists, provides an admin area where you can add, edit and delete members, very easy installation, saves email, full ip adress, date joined, site joined, username, firstname and lastname. will run on every webspace with php4 and mysql. We have added an email function which allows you send out out to single members or to full lists. 1 Year of free upgrades included - only until March, 31, 2005.
