GPORTAL is a search engine/directory link and news manager. You may manage all your links with a hierarchical directory navigation, and publish unlimited numbers of categories and links. Search script allows clients to perform searches on your news database and link database. News management allows you to create and publish your news online. You may edit templates and publish your links in a few seconds. Other features: Shows new links, popular links and sponsored links in separate pages; Easy admin control page; No need DLL or third party software (recommended IIS 6 or higher and Win 2003 or higher); and uses MS-ACCESS 2003 (comes with a free database included) database. New functions added with new version : rating system and commenting system for listings. Online working site and a full function demonstration can be found at our website. Search engine optimized version is a limited offer with new 2009 release. Our script is open source code and comes with free install offer.
