HiPrint is a webpage print solution that allows webmasters to specify which areas of a webpage are to be printed, thereby excluding other elements of a webpage that would either not print well or would be too wide for a given printed page width. Hidden tags are placed in the HTML source code to mark the areas which should be printed, whereupon HiPrint will process the page on demand to produce a printed page that fits to the users' printer setup. HiPrint is free, with an instant download from www.hibyte.co.uk/software
