Mobile Number	{value_mobile_number}
Email	{value_email}

This is a holiday and event WordPress plugin that allows you to set a custom Image and Message to display for any date. This can be used to automatically display a Holiday image and message for every holiday. You can also use it to advertise a special event that you have coming up, and display a custom image and message, to your users automatically when that day arrives. Holiday Display also has Pop-up mode, when checked it will display your custom Image and Message in a nice pop-up window, when your users arrive on your page. It will only display this once per user. The pop-up allows the user to easily click away from it. It's a perfect way to grab your users attention, you can even use it to promote sales, and special offers. The possibility's are endless with this plugin. See complete list of features below.
