No HTML or coding knowledge needed to set up this template. Everything can be set from a main .xml file and also each gallery has its own .xml file making it very easy to update and maintain, we are currently working on a CMS system, those who buy this template will receive the CMS system and full instructions for free. This amazing HTML5 Side Photography Template has so many features that we believe it is one of the best on sale, it is resizable adjusting after the browser size (flexible or fluid), this means that everything will look the same on each resolution and your photos will appear the same for all your visitors. The HTML5 template can have any number of galleries and images, each image can be resized to fit the browser's viewport and even be scrolled by panning if desired. It can also have as many information windows or external link buttons as you want, and some special sections like about me, news and a contact.
