| Mobile Number | {value_mobile_number} |
| Email | {value_email} |

Display and rotate content from an external file using this robust IFRAME ticker. Noteworthy features of the script include: Content is pulled from an external html file; Each content is defined inside the same page and using regular HTML, instead of inside JavaScript variables; Works in both IE4+ and NS6+, degrading well with rest (by not appearing). This script can further be combined with PHP or other server side scripting to dynamically populate the content.
