The Inclusion application starter script will allow you to rapidly design websites around content. There's no need to create the same familiar structures over and over again. There's no need to copy and paste your navigation. There's no need for a database. It's easy to customize and even easier to install. Inclusion is meant for designer/implementers that are tired of the old game of: copy, paste, make a change, copy, paste, ad infinitum. It's five new steps to making your beautiful designs work on the web without headaches.
