An easy to use script with a comprehensive Readme file. It's designed to use the ASPUpload object available from www.ASPUpload.com. This is a server side object that allows transfer of files from your computer to a webserver running the ASPUpload object using your browser. Very useful if you do not have FTP access because you are using a proxy server with the FTP port (21) blocked, or the FTP server is down. Only a small amount of HTML knowledge is required to set this up. All instructions are included in a readme file. No database required.
