Our instant online quote script is perfect for many uses. When a surfer visits your web site and generates an instant quote, all the quote information is secretly emailed to you, which provides you a written copy of each quote a visitor generates, and thus serves as a site monitor to let you know that folks are actually using your web site. This quote script makes it easy for customers to instantly receive a quote rather than waiting for you to hand-generate a quote. This method will help to catch 'em and grab 'em while you've got their attention before they move onto some other web site that offers instant quotes.
