iPopper is a cool little pop-up menu applet that allows you to place a system-like Popup Menu anywhere at all on the page. Unlike other implementations, iPopper triggers from an included tri-state button... working as a mouseOver, but also changing state when the menu is popped up. iPopper pops up anywhere -- even outside the applet! iPopper supports up to 100 menu items and separators, and can be easily stacked for multiple menus. Very simple and easy, and the download kit is free.
