Update: we are getting this back on track. Major code review was done in version 1.2 and there will be more contemporary updates in the near future. This excellent calendar script is a perfect solution for your dating, membership website or social network. It is so flexible and small that you can fit it in any design and page size. It can be integrated as pop-up, or built in your page or even in a web form in your script. You need only basic HTML knowledge to use it. MicroCal is small, very flexible and fully customizable. MicroCal is now free!
