Intelligently classify Confirmation Emails with Multiple Order Email! Multiple Email Extension provides an enormous support to create & assign order email templates to customers after their purchases, which is based on several wise condition settings such as diverse groups of shoppers and ways of shipping and payment. By using the extension you can: Send different emails based on various order conditions/ Classify orders relied on customer groups, shipping and payment methods/ Easily design and customize email templates/ Carefully edit and convey appropriate email content to each purchaser/ Simply set up priority for each email template.There are different visitor groups in your store and each of them has a special demand. They might be VIP members who regularly make purchases with large amounts or just a "window shopper". It is irrational to treat all of them in the same way. Let's try Multiple Order Email to become more professional and bring better service to your clients.
