Your visitors can benefit from having access to NetPediatrics Medical Search Engines. The visitor can enter a term and search for it in more than 20 medical search engines. These search engines are arranged by type of search; health articles, medical words, medical abbreviations, medical images, drugs, laboratory tests, syndromes, and more by a single mouse click. All these services are provided to your visitors, absolutely free of charge! When your visitors carry out searches from your website, the results will appear in a small pop-up window. This means that your visitors never leave your website, it simply looks like an additional service of yours.
