A feature-rich, self-hosted software solution for a directory website of any type. Can host businesses, classified ads, real estate listings, events, coupons and offers, articles, job postings, or a mix of listing types with separate category sets and membership plans. The automated invoicing, a large number of built-in payment gateways, and the ability to link a category to a form field or a membership plan along with a huge collection of configurable membership options expands your website advertising possibilities and motivates your listing owners to upgrade. Automated email notifications and built-in on-site leads management make your customers return and generate more revenue for you. The script is perfectly optimized for SEO and offers the ability to control meta tags for each page and listing, has the built-in schema.org snippets support for each listing type, and uses the latest SEO techniques for your directory and listings to be easily discoverable. Website theme management has never been easier. Feel the power of the built-in widget-based page editor that lets you quickly create and style your website pages. phpListings is modern, PHP 7.4+ compatible, mobile-friendly, secure, and reliable software with no hidden fees or monthly payments. Free lifetime usage and premium support are offered with each license.
