With pnFlashGames you can add flash and java games to your PostNuke or MD-Pro site. We now have over 100 highscore enabled games available, and more every day. The games keep highscores in your PostNuke database so your users can compete against each other. You can also set up contests and specify which games are in the contest for even more competition. High quality, professional games are now available in our online store in case you want your site to be even better than the rest. Our Commercial games allow you to get an edge on the other sites using this great module. Competition drives traffic back to your site. Increase return visitor traffic dramatically and bring life to a struggling community website, or even more fun to an already successful one.
