Now with zipcode-based searching and image galleries! If you are merely searching for a damn good review/rating system, you may find a couple out there. But if you need a powerful, precedent-setting application that destroys your competition, stirs the imagination of your audience with unexplored possibilities, and gives you intelligent and flexible tools to achieve those goals, then your search ends here. Red Queen supports all the advanced features you'd expect: custom SQL fields, custom ratings per category, file uploads, auto-thumbnailing, templates and skins, forum membership integration, top reviewers, and so on. Members can review Items. They can review Suppliers of Items (in a separate Yellow Pages directory). They can even review fellow Members--allowing utterly new member interactions in an existing forum member base.
