A package of two scripts that work great together. Simply add the Revolving Door script to the top of your HTML code on all your Non-SoftCart pages. Then add this modified version of the popular Side Door script to your SoftCart templates and regenerate your store. Users will then be able to enter your store, fill up their cart, browse the rest of your site, then return to your store and complete their order with all cart contents intact. The Side Door portion of this script adds additional functionality to keep it from destroying your cartID when users return to your store pages. Not for use on dynamic sites that already pass url parameters from page to page outside the store, but could easily be modified for use on such sites.
