RiSearch is a simple but powerful search engine program for your site. This script is not meant to replace such powerful search systems like ht://Dig and Glimpse, but intended for small and medium sites with 1000 files and total volume about 10-20Mb. It should be quite enough for most amateur sites. It features: RiSearch does not use any libraries or database systems, just pure Perl., Contrary to the big search systems, like ht://Dig or Glimpse, source code of RiSearch takes about 10 kilobytes, Script is able to work with different languages, Simple and convenient query language, and RiSearch uses platform independent binary files which can be used on any system.
