Schlabo's DL is a fully featured download counter for your files. It features: Comfortable Logs where even visitors can view how often each of the files has been downloaded, The script uses Aliases for files meaning you can easily use mirrors, The script doesn't allow download-requests from other sites, thus keeping your bandwidth your own. If you enable Leech-Protection it will hide the real URL of the file and alert you per mail if a site tries to leech your files. Before the download starts the user gets to a new page giving you an additional ad-impression for every download and you can also put some notes about what to do after downloading on that page, and more.
