AITOC's Shop by Brand Extension enables you to create separate pages for brands presented in your store and link to them from product pages, thus making it easier for your customers to browse and shop by specific brands. Instead of brands names you can use any category relevant to your store - such as manufacturers, artists, authors, etc. This solution has been successfully used by a great number of major online stores for years and it's now available for Magento! The extension is available for Magento Community Edition and Enterprise Edition. The full list of features is available on the product page, please see the link below.
