Spamboy is a utility for ISP's or e-mail providers which examines email to identify unwanted messages and viruses. Users can use it before they open their email client to pop/receive/download their email from ISP server to their local pc. Features: ability to delete unwanted email from the ISP server; Identify unwanted email before waiting for it to download to the email client; Remove unwanted email before it ever gets to the local PC. Rely on intelligent software (rather than merely key words) to make decisions about SPAM. Customize methods for filtering and displaying messages for acceptance and removal. Free setup included in purchase.
