This script allows you to run your own surveys, with tabulated results. Simplified installation (it should run 'out of the box' on NT) makes this script perfect for everyone, from the novice wanting to add interactivity to their web site, to the professional, who wants a quick and easy survey solution without having to write it themselves. Main features include: Yes/No/Undecided answers with comments, Unlimited surveys (as many files as you can have in a directory), Allow public users to view results of closed surveys, Anti-hammer mechanisms to help prevent people from answering multiple times, Simple installation, Filter expletives (or any other string) from comments, Centralized configuration settings, and Password protected administration utility.
