Syndicate Pro is server software for managing and distributing news headlines and other content over the internet similar to the service offered by iSyndicate and Moreover.com. Web sites can signup as Affiliates and distribute your news content. These "Affiliates" could distribute the news for free, you might decide to pay them based on impressions or clicks, or you might chose to charge them to display your content. Once signed up, members place a small piece of code on their web page to display the news.
