TextArea rich is a free WYSIWYG web-based editor which replaces the existing textarea HTML tag. Textarea Rich uses a similar interface to Microsoft Word and uses buttons to allow you to make text bold, italic, underlined. You can also switch between WYSIWYG view and the HTML source code to allow for even greater editing! The whole editor is written in Javascript and HTML, so there is no need to download any plugins, or ActiveX components. Version 3.0 now includes a configuration file so you can easily switch off buttons and any feature you like. TAR v3.0 now uses right click context menus, advanced colour picker which will store your "favourite" colours, and much more!
