The TreeView applet is a versatile and attractive applet which will give your site a professional look and feel. Websites with a large number of pages will appreciate this navigation applet's ability to provide an interface which users can use to quickly find the the pages they need. With the purchase of a TreeView license you will also receive the it's companion application, TreeBuilder. TreeBuilder makes the creation and modification of applet tags a simple task, it also automatically creates .jar and .cab files which dramatically decrease the download time of the applet. The applet is compiled under JDK 1.0.2 with the exception of the classes encapsulated in the dsTree.jar file which are compiled under JDK 1.1.5.
