Tired of all the 'same' whois script only whois-ing domains and returning the data as they receive it. This whois script is different ! You don't need to create your own parser for all the whois server anymore. It's already done ! You can choose to get the result as the whois server sends it back or you can access the data parsed by our script. As an example, let's say you want to retrieve the nameservers in the whois result, usually you'd have to parse the result to find the NS and then you'd have to repeat this step for the different whois servers as they don't reply the same from country to country. 3 versions of the scripts are available.
