VideoGuard provides membership, Pay-Per-View, Pay-Per-Minute and other features. Administrators can set up the stream so that only your system members can watch video, other visitors will not be granted access. You can also design your system to allow viewer to watch a video only once. If the person wants to watch the stream next time, he would have to request permission again, otherwise he will be denied access. With VideoGuard Pay-Per-Minute feature, you can program streams to be viewed for a specified period of time, after which the video will be disconnected. The user can request more viewing minutes while viewing the stream.
