WP-MLM turns any WordPress powered site into a forced matrix recruiting system which can be used to promote any affiliate, MLM or network marketing program using what we call an expanding forced matrix. The plugin will allow you to build your downline or sales forced automatically and is incredibly flexible. You can set the matrix to any initial width, set any maximum width and then the number of referrals to the site required before a user is given another front level position. Check out our demo link for a LIVE site which is using this plugin to build a sales organization! Feel free to register and look at the back office to see how it works. Currently we are beta testing many new features. Including: Custom referral links! Custom email templates! Link tracking for click thru and conversions on site! Admin controlled banner ad uploads for users to place on their sites to refer new members with embedded tracking! Redesigned user and admin dashboards! More!
