CF_GalleryDemo is a ColdFusion tag that creates a html tables with thumbnails with many options and generates the links for a pop-up windows thats fits the image exactly. All you need is to call the CF_gallery tag and place two folders in your server: one with the thumnails and one with the full size images. No need for databases, just upload your images on the servers and it will show it in a nice way. Comes with a some images and a test file. Up and running in 5 minutes. Latest additions: navigation bar, number of rows-lines to display, nice fading effect.
