Add cool, colored scrollbars to your web pages (visible in I.E. 5.5+) in a snap. Friendly, easy-to-use interface lets web designers define colors for all scrollbar elements in a visual environment either by entering a few hex color values, by selecting them from a color palette, or using the new built-in color-capture feature to capture colors from anything under your cursor. Results are visible in realtime. Includes actual size preview via built-in "mini-browser" and the ability to save and load color schemes for re-use at a later time. Save Outlook Express stationery files from within the program so your emails can have colored scrollbars too.
