DotNetEdit is a a high-end browser-based online WYSIWYG html editor, which allows users to create and edit your HTML pages without any knowledge of HTML. It can integrate seamlessly with the Microsoft® IBuySpy Portal sample, ASP.NET Forums, or your own .NET applications. Immediately, your clients can enjoy the freedom of creating and publishing web content that suits his or her content management systems (CMS), while developers maintain control over a Web site's look and feel. With the familiar and easy-to-use interface, developers can throw away the frustrations of training business users of HTML syntax as well as that of training to use a new tool.
