FLATTEXT Class B Scripts are one of the fastest and cheapest ways to put your existing or new databases online. This service creates custom Perl scripts that allow searches, edits, and deletes of your database over the web. Most desktop databases and spreadsheets allow you to export your existing data in comma separated (*.csv), tab delimited, or pipe | delimited text format. The script that this service generates will search your exported file, or will create a database from scratch using the delimiter you select.
