A fairly simple php script meant to enable one to update a web page with short to medium long pieces of text, without having to use an HTML editor and ftp client. Useful for blogs, travelogs, siteupdate notes, homepage news, changed visiting hours, etc. The script accepts plain text, automatically converting returns to breaks or full fledged html so you can embed images and links when needed. Uses a MySQL database for storage. New in v1.3: security fixes, comments must now be approved before they appear, cosmetic changes in admin interface, minor bugfixes all over the board.
