This gallery was coded for mobile devices and it is 100% mobile compatible and of course it will run just as great on PC. We have tested it on iPad3 and it runs great, you will interact with it as you would with a native app, you can see a video demo at the below link. The HTML5 Gallery / Banner with Thumbs can be used as a gallery or as a banner rotator, it has 16 transitions included and six of them are simulating the Ken Burns effect, they run really smooth and are implemented using the new HTML5 canvas element. The entire color theme and skin can be modified and you can have more than one instance of the gallery in the same page (you may have as many galleries as you want in the same page), each instance having different settings and images. The setup and use of this gallery are extremely simple; everything is explained in detail in the help file.
