Drag and Drop component is developed using iGoogle, Netvibes and other popular web sites concept. This Joomla! component enables you to create pages with modular sections that your site visitors can drag and drop in whichever order they wish. With this Drag&Drop component users can do the following: * select the modules they want to show on the page from the predefined list * change a color scheme for the page and modules color on the page. 13 colors are available * manage elements by categories dynamically (if it is applied) * share the information learned from any module on the page to their friends by email. The component includes two templates for drag drop modules. Basic programming skills are required to change them easily. The component is compatible with Joomla! 1.5 and Joomla! 2.5.
