Unfilled Attribute Manager extension is a powerful tool that allows a store owner to discover and fill empty product attributes that for some reason have been left blank. It detects all such attributes and arranges them for edit in a very handy way. With this extension you won't have to dig into the whole product list to find any unfilled attributes. From now you'll have all of them aggregated and sorted in one place. All you have to do is as follows: 1. First you choose an attribute set. 2. Then you choose a desired attribute to fill. 3. Now you have a list of products that have this attribute unfilled. You may start filling attributes from there in bulk, or if you wish to fill empty attributes for a specific category - feel free to do that using our category filter.
